WITH INDIVIDUALIZED PROGRAMS

When you major in Music at SNU expect a course plan that fits your future. Designed to give you a general background in music, this degree is paired with a minor of your choice in a related department.

Personalized attention from professors and individual instruction opportunities make your degree in Music exactly that. Yours.

During your time at SNU you will develop a diverse skill set through a number of unique learning opportunities. Log hours in our state-of-the-art recording studio under a professional studio owner. WITH INNOVATIVE LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES FROM HIGHLY QUALIFIED FACULTY

As a student of Music you will spend a lot of time in the Fine Arts building. Classrooms, student practice rooms, rehearsal rooms, faculty teaching studios and room to hang out. Plenty of spaces to study and rehearse as you fully develop your musical studies.

Our professors hold a wide range of musical expertise. Professor Jim Graves directs the nationally recognized U-Singers. He has experience directing and performing a wide range of musical genres from classical to contemporary.
Professor Ken Rosfeld, has been professionally involved in the recording studio business in Oklahoma City since 1989 and has been a recording business owner since 1995.

Outside of the classroom you can expect performance opportunities, participation in contests and more. Consider spending a semester in Nashville at the Best Semester Program where you can study music while living in community with others. Other music students have worked provided back up vocals for Ben Folds and performed at Austin City Limits.

Chelsi Snodes is finishing up her master’s degree in Music Therapy at Texas Woman’s University. In addition to going to class and completing her graduate thesis, she volunteers at the local day stay for adults with severe disabilities. In addition to earning her bachelor of arts degree in Music from SNU, Snodes has travelled abroad to Sydney, Australia to take music lessons and experience a different culture and has completed an internship in music therapy within hospice care.

“Dedication and a lot of hard work,” answers Snodes in reference to how she has succeeded. “School has never been easy for me, and I have faced many challenges and setbacks along the way. SNU provided the right atmosphere for me to succeed. I was given one-on-one time with professors; programs that assisted students with their needs; caring and sincere RAs; and a God-centered community.”

If a dream is a blueprint of a goal not yet achieved, at SNU we partner with you to focus your efforts to attain whatever it is you hope to accomplish. Thus, we say DREAM WITH CONFIDENCE.
