WITH PREPARATION FOR GREAT JOBS AFTER GRADUATION

Our professors have extensive national and international connections in the Music Business industry to help you prepare for and land the career of your dreams. Simply put, our professors open up their circle of influence and network to you. This changes the trajectory of your dream to a reality. Consider Tommy Goddard, a recent SNU music business grad. After playing in the Disneyland Band in Anaheim, California, Goddard landed a full time job as a Disney Percussionist where playing in just one ensemble is an honor, Tommy plays in three! He has also recorded at Warner Brothers Studios in Hollywood, CA. Currently working on a master's degree at University of Central Oklahoma.

According to Tommy, SNU business classes “helped me a lot as far as being organized and marketing myself and keeping financial records.”

“The School of Music preparation was perfect for what I do. As a percussionist, I had a lot of different opportunities to be involved and I would play for many other activities. It was really hard physically, but I am glad I went through it—it made me much more well-rounded,” added Goddard.

Harlan Moore, Minister of Worship Arts, Bethany First Church of the Nazarene speaks highly of him as well. “Tommy Goddard is an amazing talent...he has great character and personality which make him a wonderful addition to the worship team here at Bethany First Church. The good teaching and training at SNU enabled him to grow and develop his talent. Because of his experience and the opportunities available at SNU, Tommy has developed into a quality musician.”
